I am grateful I do not have to work until tomorrow. I was going to post that I have a couple of hours to plan my party before I have to leave for work. I have made a couple of posts on this topic, so I thought I should post here to get some help. I am giving a FFMA party at my house at 7:30 on Saturday night. Anyone have any suggestions? Would love to hear some from you too. Re: FFMA Day 2006 Celebration Thread Re: FFMA Day 2006 Celebration Thread Originally Posted by PxC I was going to post here this morning. I have someone helping me, but I am trying to think of some things that people will enjoy. I have some of the basic food. I have never really given a party before. Thanks again. Re: FFMA Day 2006 Celebration Thread I live near the Schenectady area in NYS. There is an event there in the Fall called the Geeks and Fluxx Festival - October 1: The Geeks and Fluxx Festival - October 15:

What's New in the DownZemAll!?

DownZemAll! is a download manager that allows users to use their computer as a content delivery network. The app integrates with Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox, Internet Explorer and Opera, and is an extension that lets you download torrents and use it as a FTP client. The program is a rewrite of DownThemAll! (a web browser extension for Internet Explorer, Firefox, and Google Chrome) and it was designed for beta users of the product. The features of this easy-to-use browser downloader are: - Advertisement - Good user interface: It is easy to browse your files and store them to download from web pages. You can also organize them by categories and modify them manually. Although the interface does not look any different, you can move files from one category to the next or modify the downloaded information, including the file size, number of connections, and time when the files are downloaded or uploaded. - Advertisement - Powerful tools: DownZemAll! combines tools and utilities that you can use to create shortcuts for the most commonly used sites. In addition, you can create customized rules that will help you connect to specific sites quickly, install specific plug-ins for your browser, and convert web pages into Excel files. - Advertisement - You can select the filter name (extension, MIME type, description and caption), you can add the file name (the date of download and upload), and you can also choose the destination directory. When you have downloaded the first part of the torrent, you have the option to make the download and upload automatic. - Advertisement - Power times are large and can take a long time to be downloaded, so you should not download more than you can handle. You can use filters to prevent unwanted files, but the app allows you to manage the risk of file corruption. - Advertisement - DownZemall D
